How do I use this guide?

This publication is intended to help potential candidates narrow their focus to a specific office. As you review these offices, consider your skill set, how it might relate to the duties of the office, and how your professional and personal constraints might fit the position's requirements.

Unless otherwise noted, each position listed is up for election in 2024. The maps of various district-level boundaries are linked for each office once available. Please excuse any errors of fact, grammar, or spelling. This edition is current as of Aug. 16, 2023.

Countywide Partisan Offices (NO elections in 2024)

Washington County has eight elected officials who fulfill duties for the entire county. These positions are full-time, and the compensation reflects these professional administrative responsibilities. These duties range from overseeing the county government executive departments (county judge) to law enforcement and investigation (sheriff and coroner). Countywide elected officials are also responsible for the administrative functions of the county-level judicial courts; assessment, collection, and administration of public taxes, and the management of county business and election registration.

District-Level County Offices

There are 20 positions in Washington County elected by local districts to serve at the county level. These positions include Constables and Justices of the Peace. Constables have a law enforcement role and are outdated but constitutionally required elected positions, while Justices of the Peace serve vital roles as the legislative branch of county government.

Constable

- Responsibilities: Constables are a relatively archaic elected position that predates the ability of law enforcement to effectively cover the entirety of large counties. For further information on the duties of Constables, see this 2010 story from the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette.
- Terms: Two years
- Compensation: None. Constables may take training for law enforcement duties, such as ticket-writing in their district and licensure to carry firearms. All training, equipment, and uniforms are paid for by the constable.
- Filing Requirements:
 - Age: 18
 - Residency: Must reside in the district once elected
 - Filing Fee of $50 paid to the Democratic Party of Washington County

Current Constables:

District	Party	Incumbent
1	Republican	John R. Buchan
2	Democrat	John Brooks
3	Republican	Kyle Woodruff

Justices of the Peace (JP)

Justices of the Peace, or JPs for short, are the most directly representative partisan officials in Washington County. For additional reference, see the 2022 Procedures Manual.

- Responsibilities: Review and pass county ordinance, levying taxes, and maintaining county services (e.g., county jail, county courthouse, county roads, and infrastructure)
- Terms: Two years

- Compensation: Starting in 2022, $267 per whole or quorum court meetings; $157 per additional other meetings
- Typical Schedule: 2-3 meetings a month;
- Filing Requirements:
 - Age: 18
 - Residency: Must reside in the district once elected

What's next?

Considering running for office is a lofty undertaking. You will have to weigh the responsibilities not only of campaigning but actually serving if you are elected. First, you must determine which, if any, political office is appropriate for you.

No two campaigns are the same. In this guide, more than 40 local and state offices are described. Each district has its own characteristics, historic patterns, and voter profiles. The Democratic Party will offer training opportunities and support for your campaign. You need to start building a team, making a budget, developing a strategy to raise money, and creating a plan to reach voters using technology, mailers, and good old shoe leather. Expect to raise most of the money to run your campaign yourself. You can make this easier by doing preliminary work to get to know donors, build your support network, and grow your audience on digital platforms.

We will not win every election, but we will not win any election in which we do not field a candidate. No matter which of these types of offices you run for, your candidacy will play a part in creating a better community and more opportunities in NW Arkansas and the state as a whole.

So, what's next? It's time to run for something. Let us know how we can help in your decision-making process.
